This privacy notice is designed to inform you about how we collect Personal Information about you and how we use that Personal Information. You should read this privacy notice carefully so that you know and can understand why and how we use the personal information we collect and hold about you.

We may update this privacy notice from time to time. This version was last updated on 12/10/2022.

1. Key Definitions

The key terms that we use throughout this privacy notice are defined below for ease:

Data Controller: under the UK data protection law, this is the organisation or person responsible for deciding how personal information is collected and stored and how it is used.

Data Processor: a Data Controller may appoint another organisation or person to carry out specific tasks concerning the Personal Information on behalf of, and on the written instructions of, the Data Controller. (This might be hosting a site containing personal data, for example, or providing an email marketing service that facilitates the mass distribution of marketing material to a Data Controller's customer base.)

Personal information: in this privacy notice, we refer to your data as "personal information". Personal information means any information from which a living individual can be identified. It does not apply to information which has been anonymised.

Special information – certain very sensitive personal information requires extra protection under data protection law. Sensitive data includes Information about health, racial and ethnic origin, political opinions, religious and similar beliefs, trade union membership, sex life and sexual orientation, genetic Information, and biometric Information.

3. Details of special Information which we collect and hold about you

3.1 Special information is explained in section 1 above. We do not collect or hold any special information about you.

3.2 We do not collect information from you relating to criminal convictions or offences.

4. Legal Reasons for using Personal Information

4.1 We can only use your personal information for specific legal reasons in data protection law. There are legal reasons under data protection law other than those listed below, but in most cases, we will use your personal information for the following legal reasons:

(a) Contract Reason: this is to perform our obligations to you under a contract we have entered into with you;

(b) Legitimate Interests Reason: this is where the use of your personal information is necessary for our (or a third party's) legitimate interests, so long as that interest does not override your fundamental rights, freedoms or interests.

(c) Legal Obligation Reason: this is where we have to use your personal information to perform a legal obligation by which we are bound; and

(d) Consent Reason: this is where you have given us your consent to use your personal information for a specific reason.

4.2 As explained in section 3 above, there are more sensitive types of personal data which require higher levels of protection. When we process such sensitive types of personal data, we will usually do this in the following circumstances:

- (a) We have your explicit consent;
- (b) Where it is necessary for relation to legal claims
- (c) Where you have made the personal data public

4.3 So that we can provide you with goods and/or services, we will need your personal information. If you do not provide us with the required personal information, we may be prevented from supplying the goods and/or services to you.

4.4 You must keep your personal information up to date. If your information changes, please contact us as soon as possible to let us know. If you do not do this, then we may be prevented from supplying the goods and/or services (for example, if you move address and do not tell us, then your goods may be delivered to the wrong address).

4.5 Where we rely on consent for a specific purpose as the legal reason for processing your personal information, you have the right under data protection law to withdraw your consent at any time. If you wish to withdraw your consent, please contact us using the details at the beginning of this notice. If we receive a request from you to withdraw your consent for a specific purpose, we will stop processing your personal information unless we have another legal reason for processing your personal information, in which case, we will confirm that reason with you.

4.6 We have explained below the different purposes for using your personal information and, in each case, the legal reason(s) allowing us to use your personal information. Please also note the following:

(a) If we use the legitimate interests reason as the legal reason for which we can use your personal information, we have also explained what that legitimate interest is; and

(b) for some of the purposes, we may have listed more than one legal reason on which we can use your personal information because the legal reason may be different in different circumstances. If you need confirmation of the specific legal reason that we are relying on to use your data for that purpose, please get in touch with us using the contact details set out at the start of this privacy notice.

To understand how customers and visitors to our website use the website and interact with it via data analysis	Legitimate Interests Reason

4.7 Sometimes, we may anonymise personal information so that you can no longer be identified from it and use this for our purposes. In addition, sometimes, we may use some of your personal Information and other people’s Information to give us statistical information for our purposes. Because this is grouped together with other personal information and you are not identifiable from that combined data, we can use this.

4.8 Under data protection laws, we can only use your personal information for the purposes we have told you about, unless we consider that the new purpose is compatible with the purpose(s) which we told you about. If we want to use your personal information for a different purpose which we do not think is compatible with the purpose(s) which we told you about then we will contact you to explain this and what legal reason is in place to allow us to do this.

5. Details of how we collect personal Information and special Information

5.1 We usually collect Identity Information, Contact Information, Transaction Information, Survey Information, Marketing Information, directly from you when you fill out a form, survey or questionnaire, purchase goods, services and/or digital content from us, contact us by email, telephone, in writing or otherwise. This includes the personal information which you provide to us when you subscribe to our mailing list or take part in a survey.

5.2 We may receive some of your personal information from third parties or publicly available sources. This includes:

- (a) Contact Information and Payment Information from our selected third-party suppliers
- (b) Identity Information and Contact Information from publicly available sources

(c) Website, Device and Technical Information from third parties such as analytics providers (like Google);

5.3 We may also receive Website, Device and Technical Information automatically from technologies.

6. Details about who personal information may be shared with

6.1 We may need to share your personal information with other organisations or people. These organisations include:

(a) Other companies in our group (who may might act as joint data controllers or as data processors on our behalf and who describe the services they provide which require them to have access to personal information, e.g. IT services, management reporting etc.

(b) Third parties who are not part of our group. These may include:

(i) Suppliers: such as IT services, payment providers, administration providers

(ii) Government bodies and regulatory bodies: such as HMRC, fraud prevention agencies

(iii) Our advisors: such as lawyers, accountants, auditors, insurance companies

(iv) Our bankers

(v) Credit Reference Agencies

(c) any organisations which propose to purchase our business and assets in which case we may disclose your personal information to the potential purchaser.

6.2 Depending on the circumstances, the organisations or people who we share your personal information with will be acting as either Data Processors or Data Controllers. Where we share your personal information with a Data Processor we will ensure that we have in place contracts, which set out the responsibilities and obligations of us and them, including in respect of security of personal information.

6.3 We do not sell or trade any of the personal information which you have provided to us.

7. Details about transfers to countries outside of the EEA

7.1 If any transfer of personal information by us will mean that your personal information is transferred outside of the EEA then we will ensure that safeguards are in place to ensure that a similar degree of protection is given to your personal information, as is given to it within the EEA and that the transfer is made in compliance with data protection laws (including where relevant any exceptions to the general rules on transferring personal information outside of the EEA which are available to us – these are known as ‘derogations’ under data protection laws). We may need to transfer personal information outside of the EEA to other organisations within our group or to the third parties listed above in section 6 who may be located outside of the EEA.

7.2 The safeguards set out in data protection laws for transferring personal information outside of the EEA include:

(a) where the transfer is to a country or territory which the EU Commission has approved as ensuring an adequate level of protection;

(b) where personal information is transferred to another organisation within our group, under an agreement covering this situation which is known as “binding corporate rules”;

- (c) having in place a standard set of clauses which have been approved by the EU Commission;
- (d) compliance with an approved code of conduct by a relevant data protection supervisory authority (in the UK, this is the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO));
- (e) certification with an approved certification mechanism;
- (f) where the EU Commission has approved specific arrangements in respect of certain countries, such as the US Privacy Shield, in relation to organisations which have signed up to it in the USA.

8. Details about how long we will hold your personal Information

8.1 We will only hold your personal data for as long as is necessary. How long is necessary will depend upon the purposes for which we collected the personal information (see section 4 above) and whether we are under any legal obligation to keep the personal information (such as in relation to accounting or auditing records or for tax reasons). We may also need to keep personal information in case of any legal claims, including in relation to any guarantees or warranties which we have provided with the goods, services and digital content.

9. YOUR RIGHTS UNDER DATA PROTECTION LAW

9.1 Under data protection laws you have certain rights in relation to your personal information, as follows:

- (a) Right to request access: (this is often called 'subject access'). This is the right to obtain from us a copy of the personal information which we hold about you. We must also provide you with certain other information in response to these requests to help you understand how your personal information is being used.
- (b) Right to correction: this is the right to request that any incorrect personal data is corrected and that any incomplete personal data is completed.
- (c) Right to erasure: (this is often called the "right to be forgotten"). This right only applies in certain circumstances. Where it does apply, you have the right to request us to erase all of your personal information.
- (d) Right to restrict processing: this right only applies in certain circumstances. Where it does apply, you have the right to request us to restrict the processing of your personal information.
- (e) Right to data portability: this right allows you to request us to transfer your personal information to someone else.
- (f) Right to object: you have the right to object to us processing your personal information for direct marketing purposes. You also have the right to object to us processing personal information where our legal reason for doing so is the Legitimate Interests reason (see section 4 above) and there is something about your particular situation which means that you want to object to us processing your personal information. In certain circumstances you have the right to object to processing where such processing consists of profiling (including profiling for direct marketing).

9.2 In addition to the rights set out in section 10.1, where we rely on consent as the legal Reason for using your personal information, you have the right to withdraw your consent. Further details about this are set out in section 4.5.

9.3 If you want to exercise any of the above rights in relation to your personal information, please contact us using the details set out at the beginning of this notice. If you do make a request then please note:

- (a) we may need certain information from you so that we can verify your identity;
- (b) we do not charge a fee for exercising your rights unless your request is unfounded or excessive; and
- (c) if your request is unfounded or excessive then we may refuse to deal with your request.

10. Marketing

10.1 You may receive marketing from us about similar goods and services, where either you have consented to this, or we have another legal reason by which we can contact you for marketing purposes.

10.2 However, we will give you the opportunity to manage how or if we market to you. In any marketing email which we send to you, we provide a link to either unsubscribe or opt-out. To change your marketing preferences, and/or to request that we stop processing your personal information for marketing purposes, you can contact us on the details set out at the beginning of this notice.

10.3 If you do request that we stop marketing to you, this will not prevent us from sending communications to you which are not to do with marketing, for example, in relation to goods, services and digital content which you have purchased from us.

10.4 We do not pass your personal information on to any third parties for marketing purposes.

11. Complaints

If you are unhappy about the way that we have handled or used your personal information, you have the right to complain to the UK supervisory authority for data protection, which is the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO). Please do contact us in the first instance if you wish to raise any queries or make a complaint in respect of our handling or use of your personal information so that we have the opportunity to discuss this with you and take steps to resolve the position. You can contact us using the details at the beginning of this privacy notice.

12. Third Party Websites

Our website may contain links to third-party websites. If you click and follow those links, these will take you to the third-party website. Those third-party websites may collect Personal Information from you, and you will need to check their privacy notices to understand how your personal information is collected and used by them.
